

Dear Employees,

Several queries received about whether public can get Gangajal with the vast network of post. So the department aims at using its vast network to transport the holy water from Hardwar and Rishikesh across the length and breadth of the country. The price of the bottled Gangajal would be kept nominal, given the religious sentiments attached to it. The Postman will be distributing the pure Gangajal to people. The vast network of postal department and its e-commerce platform will be utilised for the purpose.

Employees of DOP may suggest a catchy name for this project/Scheme.
